Hello there!

In 2009, my life fell apart. I thought I had met the man of my dreams and landed a coveted post-doctoral fellowship that would launch my career. But things were not what they looked like on paper.

My body was in constant pain. I suffered from anxiety and depression. And despite seeking psychotherapy, it wasn't helping.

Over the course of the next two years, I lost that relationship, my body suffered even more and my career was put on hold for what would be a significant amount of time. I was struggling to find the right support.

After fighting the men in my family for 6 years over a lawsuit, I finally had the means to pay for my healing. I didn't know that I was burnt out or what I needed.

I understand where you are now. The feeling of being desperate and yet knowing that something life changing is about to happen...

Use of Insurance Benefits

When I was looking for help starting 20 years ago, finding someone who took insurance was impossible. I also didn't know how to use my benefits.

I have made the choice to provide traditional therapy services to those clients who may not be ready for intensive work. However, using health insurance restricts the work that I am able to do with you. As such, our work in this modality is simply a supportive relationship.

While deep transformation can happen within the context of this relationship, most of us are being called to expand beyond this traditional modality. For those who are ready for intense work, my coaching services will be a better fit.

But if you are just starting your journey and don't know what to do, the start of experiencing a supportive relationship sets the foundation for your future growth.

"'Psychotherapy' is a private, confidential conversation that has nothing to do with illness, medicine, or healing."

Thomas Szasz

For those of you who just want to start therapy, your request via the ALMA portal is enough. Dr. J and her team will send you the paperwork to get you started.

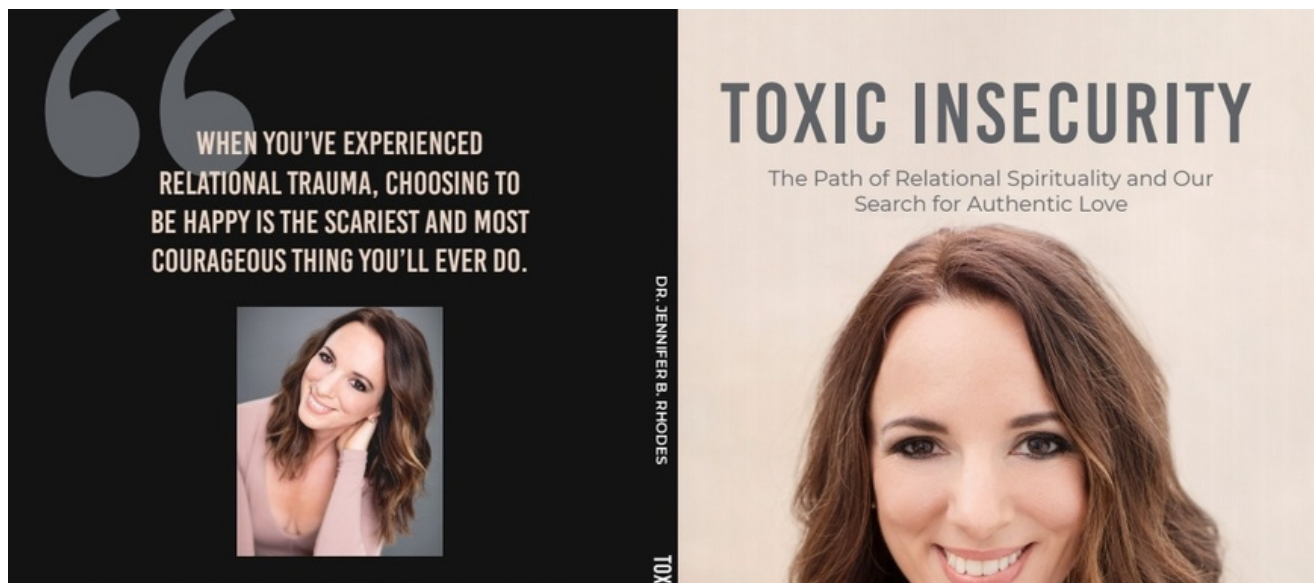

Why Work with Me

I've been through it all. For over 15 years, I have walked a healing path. I have worked with traditional psychotherapists, integrative health specialists, women's mental health experts, pilates, yoga, meditation, shamans, womb healers, psychics, mediums, akashic record readers, hypnotists and spirit releasement specialists. I have traveled to over 40 countries solo. I learned to dance tango. I healed a very broken heart and opened up to intimacy again. I have no pain in my body and very little anxiety in my life now.

I have also been a woman who has been tested by men over and over again. I fought for my inheritance from greedy male family members and won. I have stood up to male medical doctors for my patients. I've had my life threatened by former clients and ex-boyfriends - many of whom I've successfully had arrested and prosecuted.

Now collectively not only are women healing but we are being challenged by the distorted male energy of the planet. It is quite literally destroying our mind, body and souls.

And it's time for us to RISE together.

How It Works

01 BOOK A CONSULTATION CALL
Connect with my team to hear about your options and make a decision about which path may be right for you.

02 SIGN THE CONTRACT
Once you have decided that intensive work is right for you, we individualize your contract with terms and services that speak to your needs and a contract is signed.

03 PAY YOUR INVESTMENT
There are many flexible payment options for you to consider. Whether it is paying in full or installments, we help you make the investment in yourself.

04 RECEIVE YOUR ACCESS
Most 1:1 work will take place remotely. You will receive explicit instructions and online material to help you move forward in your transformation process.

Queen of Love Initiation

SUMMARY:

No more being a wallflower at the party as you claim a Queen's confidence, repelling knights in tin foil and instead attracting Kings in golden armor who will love, value, and respect you for the divine woman you are.

Awaken your inner Queen to release the toxic relationship patterns that keep you stuck dancing to a player's tune, and manifest your King who will have you singing love songs and dancing open-hearted around the ballroom.

Release feeling like a rejected Cinderella in your relationships, and put on your glass slippers and tiara to become a Queen who commands love and respect in all her relationships.

In other words, transform into the Queen who leads the way in activating divine love on this planet.

Yoga, regardless if you participate for its physical or spiritual benefits, will move energy around your body. When you are on a healing journey, these spontaneous releases will happen. There is often lots of tears and emotions that emerge. Again, I thought I was losing my mind and my body was failing me, but it wasn't. My body was showing me that it could heal itself from all the toxic insecurity I had been struggling with for so very long.

ABOUT

DR. JENNIE COMBINES TRANSPERSONAL PSYCHOLOGY WITH YOGA AND TANGO TO HEAL BROKEN HEARTS AND HELP US EXPERIENCE JOY FOLLOWING A TRAUMATIC EXPERIENCE.

The Science and Education:

Dr. Jennie received her doctoral degree in clinical psychology from the Ferkauf Graduate School of Psychology at Yeshiva University in 2008. She completed her APA accredited internship and her first post-doctoral fellowship in Infant and Preschool Mental Health at Tulane University Medical School. During this time she also received her Basic and Advanced Divorce Mediation certification at Loyola Law School. In 2010, Dr. Rhodes completed post-doctoral training in forensic psychology at the Institute for Violence, Abuse and Trauma.

The Spiritual Journey:

As part of her spiritual journey, Dr. Jennie has traveled to 29 countries (lived abroad in 3 of them), studied tango in Buenos Aires and healed from multiple failed relationships, extensive childhood trauma, her parents mental illness/substance abuse and learned that true healing requires creativity and joy outside a therapist's office. She's also learned quite a bit about self-love and balancing her own combination of feminine/masculine energies through mindful exploration of her relationships.
